THE GALIOTO FAMILY

Ambassadors for Christ (ITALY)

January-February 2009

Greetings brethren in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ,

Mazara, March 4th, 2009

We thank our Heavenly Father upon every remembrance of you all and your faithfulness. Over the past several months we have heard from many who are having many different battles with health, finances, and relationships. As the battle rages on, we appreciate more and more the faithfulness of our brethren through their many afflictions. Your part in the work here is a great encouragement and is not in vain. Be encouraged to know brethren that the work of God continues to go forward here in Sicily. We have had very good open doors and opportunities with many to proclaim the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ and we are sure that Spirit of God is working in many hearts.

Pray for Signor Maltese who is dying. He is around 80 and I have known him for many years. This is the father of Vincenzo Maltese in whose home we held church services for a couple of years. Vincenzo is now serving time in prison. I have witnessed to Signor Maltese many times over the years and saw him again in his daughter's home recently. I plan to continue to visit him, he is now in a nursing home and has very little time left. Pray that he will call upon the Lord and be saved before he is eternally damned. He is very hard toward God.

Pray for a man by the name of Salvatore Angileri who is dying of cancer and is a co worker of one of our church members, Angela Apollo. We are trying to arrange a visit to see him but he says that he feels to emotional to talk with me. I witnessed to a young man in the waiting room of the dentist's office named Gaspare who has spent time in Florida and plans to return. He was very open and after a good half hour of talking with him he gladly received gospel tracts. Thank you for your prayers for Gian Vito Foggia. We continue our friendship with him and his fiancé Maria Luisa who was saved last October. Gian Vito attended church recently one Sunday evening and then sent me several emails with questions. He has taken gospel literature and also a documentary that exposes Maryolatry world wide. This DVD is very well done and gives a thorough scriptural presentation on the subject. I see him on a fairly regular basis and have also developed a friendship with his parents. Please continue in prayer for them. Another recent very good open door I had is with an elderly man named Signor Licari from Strasatti. I have talked with both him and his wife on other occasions. They are grieving the death of their son and cry like children every time I see them. Signor Licari was especially attentive this last time when I talked with him. Please pray for their salvation.

I have been teaching English to a young man named Giuseppe for the past 6 weeks or so. This is the grandson of Fiorella, one of our faithful church members. I don't detect any interest at all in spiritual things. Pray for his salvation and for wisdom on my part to know how to deal with him. Speaking of Fiorella, she is a widow who lives in an apartment complex with all her deceased husband's family. She has been a faithful witness to them for several years. In January it was her birthday and when the family asked her what she would like as a gift, she replied that she would like them to come to church. Several of them attended a Wednesday night service and we geared it to be especially evangelical. Pray for this household to be saved. She also recently led a young woman in her early forties to the Lord named Mariella. Pray for her spiritual growth and church attendance.
